

City Verdure is Due to Fire Control

Visitors to our town are marveling at so much green growth. We "natives" are inclined to disregard the beauty of it all, until some of our friends come to see us and rave about it. One of the reasons for so much green is because we seldom have serious fires here and the main reason for that is that we as a rule abide by the rules and regulations in regards to fire. We ask that "old timers" acquaint strangers with the danger of burning outdoors and especially at the wrong time. People coming from some sections of the United States have never heard of fire regulations and are accustomed to lighting an outdoor fire at any time they desire.—From Fire Flames.

PURPLE HEART WINDOW

The Rikeman's have a very attractive window display for Washington's Birthday, the east window being a Red Cross setting, with about 50 pictures of local boys in the service.

The west window is a Purple Heart display, with pictures of boys who are members of the Order. Medals, citations, war relics, picture of Washington, the colors of the Order, etc., make an interesting display.

Mrs. Rudolph Galkin, 110 E. Mira Monte, was very active in securing the articles used in the Purple Heart window.

Local Man Rescues Fellow Worker in Cave-in

Red Cross the World Over Seen by Our Boys and Girls; Extracts from Letters

Army, Navy, Wac and Coast Guard

Jane Haddock, Wac in U.S. Army, England:

I cannot praise too highly the magnificent job the American Red Cross is doing for service people over here. As soon as I get paid I am sending home $10 which I want you to give them, and only wish I had been more generous.

Randolph J. Twycross, Y 1/c, Coast Guard in the Philippines: Keep on helping with the Red Cross, because everything given to the fellows is very much appreciated. The Red Cross does a great deal of good overseas.

Arthur O. Pritchard Jr., 155th Station Hospital, Dutch East Indies: The Red Cross is certainly appreciated by the men in our hospital, particularly as a means of contact with their homes.

Pfc. George T. Tyler, 385th Infantry Regiment, England: Says that the thing that impressed him on arriving in England was the good work the Red Cross was doing, and he really enjoyed the good old-fashioned American doughnuts and coffee they were distributing to the boys.

Roger Wood, U.S. Navy: Our ship left San Pedro the day before Christmas. The evening before, the American Red Cross was on the dock and every man on board was given a filled Christmas stocking. As most of the men had received and opened their Christmas packages "way back in October, they got a big kick out of receiving the Red Cross stocking filled with useful small gifts to open on Christmas Day.

O'BANION'S ADVENTURES IN CHINA TOLD AFTER 30 YEARS OF MYSTERY

The review of Carl Glick's "Double Ten," published by Whittey House, will have more meaning to Sierra Madre people than to thousands over the country who will soon be reading the first edition, for in this thrilling tale of China's military activities in U.S. it is none other than the story of our own Capt. A. E. O'Banion of 337 Camillo St. Mr. Glick of New York says Book-of-the-Month club has a fine review and we quote from South Carolina's largest newspaper, the State:

CAPT. A. E. O'BANION, Hero of "Double Ten" who related the story after more than a generation of silence.

Carl Glick, author of "Three Times I Bow," and "Shake Hands With the Dragon," has once again held his magnifying glass over Chinatown with the result that in "Double Ten" he illuminates one of the most cataclysmic eras in China's history.

It all began when a 27-year-old lieutenant general named Homer Lea, and Irish captain named O'Banion, and 40 untrained soldiers formed the entire Chinese imperial reform army which planned to topple an empress from her throne and free China.

Mr. Glick turned the trick when he managed to buttonhole Capt. O'Banion and worm from him the startling story now captured in the pages of "Double Ten." It is a story, most of whose details have been withheld for 30-odd years, and some have not even yet been told.

With great clarity and an evident desire to stick to facts, but with a noticeable negligence of dates, Mr. Glick pierces the veil covering many of the activities

In Torpedo Boat Service

Mr. and Mrs. John Dawson, 476 Sturtevant Dr., have received word that their son, William Dawson, Fireman 1/c, has volunteered for torpedo-boat service. He completed two courses in Diesel engine at Great Lakes and Richmond, Va., and qualified for LST motor machinist's mate. He has recently been stationed at Melville, R.I.

A call was made for volunteers on these torpedo boats which are made of plywood and are very fast, and he decided to answer the call.

Injured in Fall from Bicycle

David, 12-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. G. R. Lovejoy, 74 W. Grand View, took a bad fall from his bicycle while riding down hill Friday. His school bag of books caught in the front wheel and he was thrown on the pavement and was unconscious for 45 minutes. His leg struck the curb but X-rays showed no bones broken, but he was suffering from shock and bruises.

"Here Lies Sierra Madre"

It has been very noticeable that the old P.E. Station landmark has been painted an appropriate "tombstone gray" and it is sincerely hoped that when they repaint the nameplate that it will not bear "Here Lies Sierra Madre." The reflection is entirely upon the P.E. Station and casts not a slightest ray upon the merits of our town.

Watching Miracle in Field Hospital

"I guess you have seen advertisements in the magazines about blood plasma. Boy! this stuff performs miracles. It really does wonders for a lot of fellows. I have seen men where you couldn't feel a pulse hardly at all and after two or three units of plasma they perk right up and will smoke a cigarette. It's hard to believe unless you really see it yourself."

This is taken from a letter by Cpl. Ginter to his friends, Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Summers, 671 W. Orange Grove. Cpl. Ginter of Los Angeles is with a medical unit in Belgium.

Another Lad Hurt in 100-Foot Canyon Fall

Falling down the cliffs of Big Santa Anita Canyon seems to be a favorite outdoor sport as the third boy in three weeks was a victim Thursday. Eugene Beday, 16-year-old Los Angeles lad, suffered fractures of the right shoulder and left ankle, multiple abrasions, concussion and shock, and he credits his hiking companion, Conway Enscoe, 17, a Merchant Marine seaman on leave, with saving his life.

The two youths, hiking two miles above the Ranger station, were starting down the side of a loose shale slope when Beday lost his footing and took a 100-foot plunge over a cliff. Enscoe, whose home is in Alhambra, risked his own life in sliding down the mountainside and managed to half carry and half drag his 170-pound companion almost to the road where he administered first aid.

It was nearly two hours before their cries attracted a passing motorist who took Beday to Pasadena Emergency hospital.

WHAT GOES INTO RED CROSS PACKAGES TO PRISONERS OF WAR?

The more we know of the operation of American Red Cross the more thankful we are that we, as simple civilians, have the privilege of giving to its maintenance. Whatever is given, from one dollar to ten thousand, finds a channel to bring home comfort to the soldier, the refugee, the sick, the prisoner, etc., etc.

On exhibition at the Red Cross Headquarters in Sierra Madre is a box packed with valuable food sent by the Red Cross each week to our prisoners of war. It is understood that most of the boxes going to German prison camps reach their destination, but the report is not so well from the Japanese theatre. We unpacked this box and found the following contents: two cakes soap, 5 packages of cigarettes, half lb. sugar, powdered coffee, cans of vegetable stew, chopped ham, one lb. oleo, eight vitamin capsules, one lb. prunes, six oz. jam, box chocolate, 7 1/2 oz. salmon, six oz. liver pate, eight oz. processed cheese and box whole wheat crackers.

Prisoner of Mussolini Speaks at Bethany Sunday Evening

Frank Scorza is to be at the Bethany church next Sunday evening at 7:30. He was exiled from Rome, Italy, by order of the Mussolini government. He is now working among the 65,000 Italian war prisoners captured by the American Army in North Africa and Sicily.

He received his education in Rome, Italy; has served a number of years as a missionary around the Mediterranean and various parts of Italy. He is a graduate of the Northwestern Theological Seminary of Minneapolis and is also a baritone soloist.

Mr. Scorza has an outstanding testimony of his conversion, life story and experience as a former member of the Fascist party, and of being arrested three times for the Gospel's sake.

He will tell Sunday evening of his first imprisonment experience under Mussolini's government.

Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Edgin Mourn Son's Death

The parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Edgin, 451 W. Grand View, of Joyce C. Edgin, were grief-stricken Sunday evening to have a call from Beverly Hills that their son had passed away at his home. Mr. Edgin was the only son of the Sierra Madre Edgins who moved here about a year ago. Joyce Edgin owned an electrical store on S. Flower, Los Angeles. He is survived by his wife of Beverly Hills and two sons in the service, Robert Edgin in Belgium and Phil Edgin of the Army Air Force. There is a sister, Mrs. Margaret Erickson of Redlands. The services will be Friday, 2:30 p.m., at the Church of the Reformation, Forest Lawn.

Sierra Madre Girl To Be Queen of Wistaria Fete for First Time. Opening Date of Fete is March 15

Queen to be Crowned at Press-Radio Breakfast. The Woman's Club To Be Sponsor

Queen to be Crowned at Press-Radio Breakfast. The Woman's Club To Be Sponsor

The News is privileged to announce that Sierra Madre's annual world-famous Wistaria Fete will again be held this year and for the first time a Queen will be selected from Sierra Madre girls. The 53rd anniversary of the Wistaria Vine Gardens will be celebrated by playing host to the continuous parade of thousands of Southern Californians and visitors from other States who make the yearly trek to this famous beauty spot.

Tuesday morning, March 13, a Press-Radio Breakfast will be held under the Wistaria Vine at which representatives of the press, motion-picture magazines, radio personalities from the Southland and motion-picture representatives will be present. Arrangements have been made to broadcast the program by Radio News Reel over Station KMTR. Spanish entertainers will add to the picturesqueness of the occasion.

The Woman's club will select a presiding officer to welcome the guests and introduce the Master of Ceremonies who will give a historical sketch of the Vine, after which Charles Garland, acting for the Judging Committee, will announce the selection of the Queen. Mr. Garland is a Hollywood agent representing the firm of Berg-Altenberg, foremost artists' agency with a clientele including leading actors, actresses, directors, producers and authors. Garland, speaking for the Judging Committee, said that each contestant will be judged with an eye toward her motion-picture possibilities.

The Woman's club of Sierra Madre is again sponsoring and presenting this amazingly colorful sight to the Southland and her visitors. Mrs. Orin K. Preston, chairman of the Ways and Means committee, announces the appointment of Mrs. Emory Diemer as chairman of the committee for providing the personnel for the gates.

For the first time a Wistaria Queen will be selected from Sierra Madre girls to reign over the festivities. Any girl, married or single, age 15 to 21 inclusive, who lives within the city limits of Sierra Madre, is eligible. From the photographs received from the entries, five finalists will be chosen by the judging committee. The pictures will be published in the Sierra Madre News and released to Southland newspapers and to papers over the States. The Queen will then be chosen by the judging committee from the five finalists.

Submit a portrait or full-figure snapshot (5x7 or larger). Girls not having pictures and unable to have them made in time for the Contest deadline, leave your name, telephone number and address at the Sierra Madre News office.

On each picture write name, address, phone number, age last birthday, height, weight, color hair and eyes and measurements. Send photos to Wistaria Vine Gardens, or to the Sierra Madre News.

Entries must be made by midnight March 8.

Finalists will be chosen for their grace, charm, freshness, personality. Above all, person must be taken into major account in judging a contest of this kind.

Judges
In addition to Mr. Garland the judges will include a famous motion-picture actress, now being selected, who will also crown the Queen; Whitey Schaffer, Paramount's chief photographer, and Bonnie Cashion, 20th Century-Fox fashion designer.

The Wistaria Vine Gardens will be open to the public Thursday, March 15, earlier than usual, as it is expected the Vine will be in bloom about two weeks earlier than last year's opening.

Small plants can be used in miniature pottery or larger plants in hanging baskets, wall brackets or window boxes. Its small dark green glossy ivy foliage is neat looking all the year around.

PRIMROSES: The best flowering house plant is Primula Obconica. Obconica is the large flowering primrose. They will bloom in the house for months if they are placed near a window but not in the direct sunshine. Cinararias also make fine flowering plants for the house. They are one of our most interesting and beautiful flowering plants because of the variety of colors they come in and the many blooms that flower all at once on the plant. They are especially good for gift plants.

AZALIAS: These gorgeous plants always make wonderful gift plants and can be used indoors until they stop blooming. Then they should be planted in a shady spot in the garden in pure peat moss.

Culture of House and Gift Plants: Keep plants in the house moist but do not allow the water to collect and stand in saucer or jar under plant. Fertilize lightly every month. Likwid Gro is ideal for this. Use one teaspoonful to one quart of water. Soak plants with this solution.

Will Assist in State Income Tax Returns

Assistance in preparation of State income-tax returns will be available at Pasadena Chamber of Commerce on February 19 to March 15 and April 2 to 14, it was announced today by the Franchise Tax Commissioner's office. Single persons whose net income was over $2000 and married couples whose combined net income was over $3500 or in either status if the gross income was over $5000 are required to file State returns.

Inasmuch as provisions of the State Income Tax Act differ in many respects from those of the Federal Revenue Act, taxpayers having any questions are invited to call on the State representative to have them answered.

It is pointed out that the above dates are the only times when assistance will be available in this section and taxpayers are urged to avail themselves of this service in order to justify a representative being assigned here next year. This service is offered without charge. Do not phone, but call in person for information or forms.

Mrs. Claire Moon will be hostess to the American Legion Auxiliary tonight at her home, 25 Lowell St.

Current Events Dept. Met with Miss West

The Current Events department of the Sierra Madre Woman's club met at the attractive home of Miss Ruth West on W. Highland Ave. Monday night to discuss the vitally important issue, The Dumbarton Oaks Proposals, soon to be the United Nations Agreements. This is especially interesting because of the meeting of peace-loving nations at San Francisco in April when they will study these proposals and reach an agreement on an organization with power to prevent future wars.

All citizens should study these proposals so that they may be informed and able to make an intelligent decision in a matter touching every person so closely. The discussion was led by Virginia Timberlake Steinberger, chairman, who gave a short history of the 13 conferences extending over a period of more than two years, leading up to the Dumbarton Oaks meeting. The subject was presented in three divisions, Mrs. Lloyd Allan taking the General Assembly, Mrs. Fred Griebow the International Court of Justice and the chairman the Security Council. There followed a spirited discussion by the members.

A short resume of the Bretton Woods agreement was given, which will be subject matter of the next meeting. This conference covers the monetary agreements between members of the United Nations in the postwar period and is of extreme interest. Members are missing a fine opportunity to become familiar with matters to be decided by the peoples of the world, by not attending these meetings. All are welcome.

Manila

When the Stars and Stripes came down in Manila on January 2, 1942, and the Japanese flag was raised in its place, one of the blackest hours had struck not only for the Filipinos and the Americans who were trapped on the islands, but for all of us here at home.

The war had been on for less than a month, yet the enemy spearhead had already pierced the heart of the Philippines. There were grave doubts in the thoughts of many that Manila could ever be retaken.

But now the yellow tide which swept so arrogantly and so cruelly three years ago is receding under the counter flood of our arms and men. The fall of Manila cannot fail to give both Filipinos and Americans a sense of joy and satisfaction as keen as any experienced in this war.

In the long trek back from "down under" to liberate the Philippines, we have thought of General MacArthur's moves as so many amphibious leaps from one island to another. But it has also involved much footwork in plodding through jungles, and has required the use of thousands of American trucks to move supplies inland from the beachheads. In fact, motor trucks have been so important in this campaign that without them MacArthur's return would have been almost impossible. We believe it was General Patton who said that the two-ton truck was one of America's most potent weapons.

But the important thing now is that MacArthur is back. In time the liberation of Manila will be followed by the complete smashing of the Japanese yoke in all the Philippines. The bond of friendship between ourselves and the Filipinos has been welded unbreakably in the furnace of affliction.

New Base in Pacific

The War Department has revealed that our B-29's operating in the Pacific have a new base—the island of Tinian in the Marianas Island group. The new air field provides additional facilities for our giant air birds which have been pounding Japan during the past months, and hints that the number of B-29's based in the Marianas is increasing substantially. These big sky ships apparently are being used to maintain the pressure on the enemy home island while our carrier task forces dash in from time to time to make concentrated smashes against Tokyo and other vital points. The Tinian field has been in use since December 21.

Silence in Berlin

There is a strange silence in Berlin—or in the ruins of what once was Berlin. Paradoxically, that silence can be "heard" even above the blast of bombs from the sky and the rumble of Russian guns in the East.

This great gob of silence has been left by the departure of one Herr Goebbels, better known to Americans as Gaby Joe. Joe has been exhorting the German people to fight to the last drop of blood, and Joe doesn't care whose blood it is, just so long as it isn't his. Hence his departure for more pleasant—and safer—surroundings.

The Goebbels' "scream sheet"—Der Angriff—has also quit Berlin, and in fact, has quit publication entirely. Probably no other one thing could testify more eloquently to the situation in the Nazi Capital than this.

It is rumored that Mr. Goebbels' decision to move was not due entirely to the Allied bombings or the nearness of the Soviet armies. His popularity with the people seems to have taken a very sharp nose dive in recent weeks, and it may be that he was a bit concerned lest some bombed-out, hungry civilian take a pot shot at him.

Well, from the present outlook it appears that Joe will have to travel far to reach a place where he will be welcome. In fact, there is only one place we know of where he would be welcome—and that's "out of this world."

Put On the Brakes!

Will the end of the war "let loose the greatest concentrated spending" in State and municipal history?

New York's National City Bank, in its monthly review of economic and financial conditions, sees a definite threat of this. The review points out that in addition to the Federal spending program and the two billion dollars which States have accumulated and will spend, many municipalities, large and small, are planning breathing-taking projects which they hope will be partly financed by gifts from the Federal and State treasuries. Heavy borrowing and increased taxation, however, appear inevitable to carry out these plans.

Already in California some local governments are imposing special new taxes to raise money for such projects. With the over-all tax burden at an all-time high, it would seem that the first postwar job of government is to knock down taxes instead of putting up impressive structures.

Declared the "New Hampshire Taxpayer" in discussing over-ambitious plans for public works, "These proposals are usually sugar-coated with the appeal that they make jobs for returning soldiers. They also make taxes to be paid by those same soldiers. None have the flexibility to permit spending only if employment renders public works essential to create jobs. As a result, if the anticipated post-war boom actually occurs, these proposals would result in competition for labor and materials between the government projects and private employers. The taxpayer would be the sufferer and no one but the politician handing out the project would be the gainer."

Many of the surrounding towns have what is known as cleaning-up day. It would not be a bad idea to inaugurate such a day here. But meanwhile greater care ought to be taken not to throw papers around. Mr. Kersting intends to have a receptacle in connection with his new building in which loose papers can be collected and burned up. (We wish the receptacle were in place today, 1945.)

Among the expenditures presented to the Sierra Madre Improvement Association meeting tonight will be: (1) The cost of fixing signs at the corners of principal streets; (2) Advertising the place in the Travel and Hotel Bureau and other publications; (3) Publishing, distributing and circulating by mail the "Directory

PEN SKETCHES

By LEE McCARTY

These are indeed unhappy days. Men's minds are weighted heavily with uncertainty and anxiety. Thoughts of postwar planning cross the mental platform every hour of the day. Will the world again submerge into the mire of a depression? Will there be a World War III? What causes these phenomena? On what great principle must a nation build its modern foundation?

Well, Confucius said that people had to have plenty to eat, a standing army, and that a nation had to have faith. He was asked if he were forced to relinquish one of these three entities which of them would he go without. Confucius said he would go without the army first. If he had to give up a second factor which would it be? He would go without sufficient food. "There have always been deaths in every generation, but a nation without faith cannot stand."

We all know the depression almost shattered our faith. This economic stalemate was due to the machine.

When man invented labor-saving devices, when these were used by the unscrupulous to further personal gains at the expense of the community, then was incubated a series of bloody wars. I mean the miracle of mass production was not shared with all the people. Nor is it yet.

Inventors cannot always tell how their brain-child is going to be used. Suppose Nobel had known his dynamite would be used to rip flesh and cause blood to flow. Suppose the Wright Brothers had foreseen airplanes unloading with women and children. What would they have done?

It is the misuse of machinery which is at the core of modern economic trouble. It was not meant to beat the plow into a field, nor to stifle labor by prodigious production.

It is not at all fanciful to say that World War II had its inception in an electric motor or a spark plug and an engine. The basis of all war rests in money which is symbolic of commodities which are today created by machines.

The vicious dog-eat-dog philosophy of bigger and better business could not hope to control the machine. It lacked all semblance of human kindness or spiritual value. World owners of machines got lost in a labyrinth of false concepts and poured out a mountain of goods to a world the machine was rapidly putting out of work.

You can not sell goods to a world without money. When people are unemployed they grow restless, and when out of food and money they grow violent. Thus it is easy to see, Hitler's moment came. Ears were ready to listen to his harangue. He began his march to seize territory to create a market for German goods. Not that he had any altruistic motive for his people; he wanted to put the machine back into high gear so the industrialists who supported his expensive campaigns could get their share of world trade. Thus labor would take care of itself.

Today's prosperity! It makes my soul sick to think of this blood money. Once upon a time it was the old story of too many workers for the machines; but today it is the reverse or too many machines for the workers. We all know the present demand for goods, whether essential or non-essential, has no limit.

And there are among us those who cling to a Ghandi philosophy to destroy the machine and go back to the horse and buggy, so to speak. In other words to avert plowing every other row of corn under the sod, return to the primitive and be happy! These people are rank dreamers who stick their heads in the sand and hope all will go well with them.

We can't turn back now. This is a young man's world and the older ducks will have to get used to it. Machines shall be built to produce at greater speed better quality goods. Where 10 men once operated them one man will be figured in the job. However, the youth of this nation shall need the wisdom of older heads to arrive at some workable idea between labor and the machine. Laws shall be forthcoming which will throttle the avaricious and greedy. Working hours of labor must be sliced in time element so that many shifts of men may operate the machine in one day instead of one man operating the same device or mechanism which performs the miracle of mass production. Unless this is done, World War III is in the making. World War III is the explosion within a cylinder head will invariably drive the piston down.

Now, don't point at me and say I am edging up to Communism. My views are decidedly American and I hope progressive. But we all stand in awe of Russia as we read the news from day to day. We marvel at how she has pulled herself up out of the slime of revolution and chaos to become a world power within a few decades. She has had the healthy, rugged growth that once belonged only to America. The answer is simple: the machine went to work for Russia and not Russia for the machine.

Surely, then, we must have faith that we can control the machine. We must not only think upon it but talk about it so those who lead us know they have the great faith of the American people behind them. We must not, above all, continue to live in a world such as Heinrich Heine in his Reisebilder observes poetically to be the hard, calloused fact:

Yes, even in the highest paths of the world tragedy, bits of fun slip in. . . . On this great stage of the world all passes exactly as on our beggarly boards. On it, too, there are tipsy heroes, kings who forget their parts, scenes which obstinately stay up in the air, prompters' voices sounding above everything, danseuses who create extraordinary effects with the poetry of their legs, and costumes, which are the main thing. And high in heaven, in the first row of the boxes, sit the dear little angels, and keep their little gnomes on us comedians here down below, and the blessed Lord Himself sits seriously in His great box, and, perhaps, finds it dull, or calculates that this theatre cannot be kept up much longer because this one gets too high a salary, and that one too little, and that they all play much too badly.

The button they sewed on Tom's shirt 9 times

YOU know Tom, although perhaps you call him by another name. A shy, quiet boy who has suddenly become a man in the midst of war. Until he went into the Army Tom had never been away from home. But now he's three thousand miles from Mom and Dad . . . and a boy can become mighty lonely, even in an army of millions.

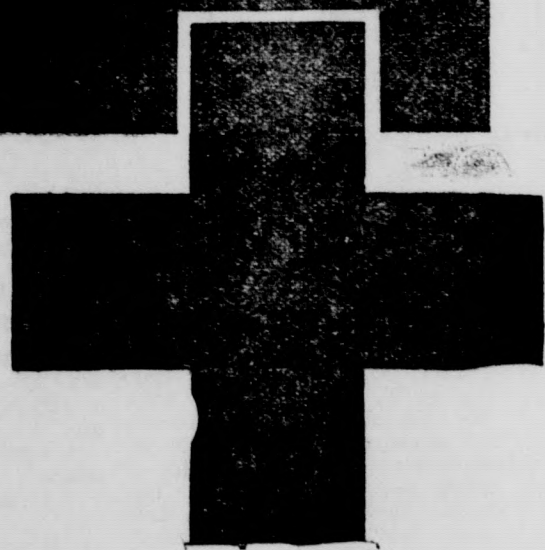

But here in the jungle, as though by some miracle, a Red Cross club has been established. And inside are girls...smiling, wholesome American girls who speak your language and are so much like sis . . . or the girl next door.

Tom knows that among a score of heart-warming jobs these Red Cross girls perform is the simple, homey act of helping a GI sew on buttons. So Tom has torn a button from his shirt and a Red Cross girl is sewing it on. And a little later Tom will tear off that same button again. In all (and this is an actual case), that button was sewed on a total of nine times! The girls know, and smile indulgently. A little thing, yes, but such little, friendly services can give a big lift to the spirits of a lonely service man far away from home.

This is the only appeal the Red Cross will make to you this year. How much pain and suffering and loneliness the Red Cross will alleviate depends on you. For the Red Cross is entirely dependent upon your contributions. The task is greater today than ever. Won't you give as much as you can in this great humanitarian cause?

Keep your

FIRE FLAMES

If and when the brand-new fire truck arrives, we are wondering just how and where to place each individual piece of equipment. What, with the present State Pool Unit in our possession, and upon the return of "Old Snort" from the repair shop, are we "head to do"? A way will be found, it is hoped, so that the benefits of the entire lot can be utilized. It is not entirely ridiculous to mention that not so very long from now, our city will require more suitable and perhaps another fire station. In consideration of the distance that the trucks are called upon now to cover, such is more ridiculous.

The interest shown by a group of youths who appear at the station on Sunday mornings assures Sierra Madre the continuation of a Fire Department. Led by Raymond Picard (who with several others worked with the Forest Service all summer), this group practices fire-fighting and scans the fire trucks from "head to foot" in getting acquainted with locations of materials and equipment. Chief Heasley and Bob Newbery have been working with the boys and both admit that they are never too old to learn. The well-trained young men show the results of their summer with the forest service. Once more Sierra Madre benefits by the interests of our young men.

One who travels up and down the main drags of Sierra Madre cannot help but notice that new faces are seen each day. Old faces remain while many have disappeared. Where are they? Where do these new ones come from? By the looks of the license plates of autos that flitter here and about, they must come from all parts of the United States. One or two display Hawaiian license plates. Many of these people are going to remain after the war. This means more and more building with the expected added fire hazard. It is up to us to prepare for the future and keep our fire equipment in first-class working order. Money spent for good fire equipment is not an expense but rather a fine investment.

The crowding of buildings, some of which are not fireproof by a long shot, is happening in Sierra Madre before our eyes almost unnoticed. Were such buildings to take fire during a heavy windstorm, only good fortune and a lot of hard work would prevent a catastrophe. Let's keep the FIRES OUT.

Nancy Holmes SUGGESTS

GEORGE WASHINGTON'S birthday always calls for a celebration—be it ever so small. Since our men and women are still fighting for the ideals that he believed in, this year should be no exception. So why not mark this occasion by inviting a few friends over for a simple dinner and a few hours of good, friendly conversation. Nancy Holmes of the Best Foods kitchens suggests a very simple dinner which is certainly in keeping with the food problems most housewives have to face these days. Achieve a festive note through gay, patriotic table decorations and a Flaky Cherry Roll dessert which she created especially for this occasion.

 4 teaspoons baking ¾ cup milk
 ¼ powder 1 cup canned or frozen sour
 ¼ teaspoon salt cherries
 ¼ cup vitaminized margarine 1 cup raisins
 Sift flour, baking powder and salt together. Cut in vitaminized margarine and ¼ of the cream cheese with a pastry blender or fork. Add milk and toss lightly until all particles are moistened. Knead lightly on floured pastry cloth until smooth on one side. Roll out into a rectangle about ¼ inch thick. Mix thoroughly drained cherries (save a few for garnish) and raisins and dredge lightly with flour. Sprinkle on rolled dough. Roll up as for jelly roll. Moisten edge of dough and press together to seal in juices. Bake in shallow greased pan in hot oven (450° F.) 30 minutes or until done. Top with small mounds of remaining cream cheese and a cherry. Serve with cream and sugar. Yield: 6 servings.

Warm Desserts For Cold Days

THERE'S no better way to finish off a meal on a cold winter day than with a good, hot dessert and cups of fragrant, steaming coffee. Our photograph today pictures a hot Coffee Soufflé that will be the pride and joy of your heart and the delight of your family when you serve it. Pick the next really cold night and surprise them.

This Coffee Soufflé, accompanied by freshly-made, hot coffee, is the perfect climax for any meal, but is especially welcome when the thermometer is low. The foundation mixture, except for the egg whites, can be prepared ahead of time and the egg whites folded in at the last moment. Baking can be done while the main course is being eaten. The use of coffee for the necessary liquid is a master touch; the coffee imparts a

Coming Monday, Pasadena Date

The last week in February will see two attractions at Pasadena Civic Auditorium, both unique, outstanding in their fields and up to the last minute in interest. tional all over the country. Wednesday, February 28, Mr. Wilson brings two artists in one of the most original joint recitals ever planned by a pair of virtuosos, Paul Draper, tap dancer supreme, and Larry Adler, world's greatest harmonica player.

Ever since their first joint recital in Chicago in 1940 Paul Draper and Larry Adler have been considered by critics as two of the world's most amazing geniuses. Combining tap and classic dancing with popular and classic music, the two men provide entertainment that is said to lift audiences right out of their seats.

In the lecture, "Circle of Fire," Mr. Line turns his all-seeing camera on the vital Pacific islands, Hawaii, Guam, the Dutch East Indies, the Philippines, and finally "inside Japan" are revealed in the last professional colored motion pictures taken before the war started. Recording 25,000 miles of travel, the pictures, called astounding, reveal war preparations by Japan and show why she cannot be starved out. So important was this information that the pictures were studied by Army generals and their staffs as an aid in planning their campaigns.

Kitchen knives should be washed and dried separately, then put into a knife rack or a separate compartment in a drawer. Inspection of all electrical equipment will be a valuable precaution against possible accidents or fires. Frayed or worn cords should be repaired immediately and, if they are beyond repair, discarded without hesitation. A few minutes could be profitably spent in checking to be sure that no extension cords run over nails or around pipes and radiators.

LONELY? You'll never know...

It's the waiting that gets you down . . . thinking . . . will you ever get home again? . . . why don't they write more often . . . did Dad ever get over that heart trouble . . . is your best girl still waiting . . . will you ever get a job again . . .

And then, something saves you.

Like the day the Red Cross field man got a cable that your Dad was well.

And the time Red Cross girls came up with doughnuts, coffee and million-dollar American smiles.

Then Christmas came. And the Red Cross girl at the club made you trim a palm leaf Christmas tree, and you all had presents and sang the old carols, out there in the hot tropic night.

Maybe it doesn't sound like much. The Red Cross does a lot of bigger things . . . such as collecting blood plasma for the wounded . . . sending food packages to prisoners of war . . . clothes for bombed-out kids.

But to us, home seems just a little nearer, because your Red Cross is with us.

Americans: To keep at the side of your fighting men, your Red Cross must have funds. Contributions from you are the only source of income. Millions of our men are still far from home. They need your Red Cross . . . they must have it.

RED CROSS

LET'S KEEP FOOD PRICES DOWN

If they get out of control it's just too bad... everyone is hurt. Remember what happened during the last war and immediately following peace? It can't happen this time and it won't IF WE ALL DO OUR PART.

Market Basket is helping through selling all of its merchandise at LEGAL ceiling prices and less AND POSTING ALL PRICES WHERE YOU CAN EASILY READ THEM. You can help the cause by studying these prices carefully and if in spite of all the care exercised you should find a mistake NOTIFY THE MANAGER OF THE STORE AT ONCE.

Let's work together in this mighty important job.
